

Lori E. Dillon has been a resident of the Nehalem-Wheeler-Manzanita area since 1979. (Some of you may know her as Lori Slatter).

Her love of the outdoors and color shows in her artwork. Art classes through high school and a two-year vocational Graphic Arts course honed her skills. More recently, she has attended several classes at the Sitka Center for Arts and Ecology in Otis, Oregon. This resulted in her current passion for mixed media pieces.

Dillon has participated with and displayed artwork at CART'M's annual Trash Bash, the Manzanita Creative Arts Council's (MCAC) Annual Summer Show, and the Tillamook County Arts Network's (TCAN) many events. This past December she had a successful month-long display of mixed media works at Manzanita News and Espresso.

Active in the arts community, Dillon serves on the boards of the MCAC and TCAN. Both groups promote local artists.

"Although I have shared my techniques with friends on an informal basis, this will be my first formal class. We are going to have fun!"

Exploring Embedded Imagery

Intermingle your symbols and stories with the use of acrylic paint, plaster, image layering, nature. This Multi-media art class will open your eyes to new ideas for your visual art. We will work on several pieces at once in order to allow them to dry in their different stages. Participants will end up with 3 to 5 finished works.

Most materials provided. Supply list will be sent to you after sign up for class.
